Elitis Sustainability

Made and recycled in the UK

The environment is important to us which is why we ensure our uPVC and aluminium products are designed to minimise waste and contain some recycled content where appropriate. 95% of our factory offcuts are recycled and we also recycle the windows and doors Elitis installers take out of homes when replacing with new ones.

uPVC remains a great durable, low maintenance and energy efficient option. Thanks to recent advances in recycling, uPVC products can be recycled numerous times, with the uPVC actually gaining strength when recycled. However, virgin uPVC is used on external surfaces to ensure the perfect finish and no loss of colour stability. Aluminium is the most recycled material in the world and we have the very best recycling procedures in house to minimise any waste.

Buying Elitis windows and doors is good for your home, your pocket and the environment.

Re-useable and recyclable for hundreds of years

Research has shown that 95% of 'post-consumer' or end-of-life uPVC windows can be recycled. The official product life for a uPVC window or door is up to 35 years (BRE) and they can be recycled up to 10 times meaning 350 years of re-use with minimal impact on the environment.

Made and Recyled in UK

Environmentally responsible

At Elitis we are committed to sustainable developments in the uPVC industry. This is why we use waste windows frames, that would otherwise go into landfill and recycle the material to create brand new windows – windows made from windows, for closed-loop material sustainability.

Our windows represent a genuine sustainable option. Not only because they help reduce CO2 emissions, but also because uPVC is a fully recyclable material. Each year, tens of thousands of tonnes of uPVC are recycled, minimising impact on landfill waste sites.

uPVC French Doors

uPVC French doors create an elegant threshold between home and garden. Industry-leading weather seal and frame technology ensure unmatched energy efficiency. Outward opening French Doors can be combined with sidelights to flood your home with light.

One of the main benefits of uPVC French doors is how low maintenance they are. Made-to-measure, they will fit the aperture perfectly, providing an easy way to be cleaned. The sashes can open simultaneously, allowing for safer cleaning. uPVC is a low maintenance material that simply needs a wipe down to stay looking as good as the day they were installed. Your customers can feel confident that these Elitis supplied uPVC French doors won't rust, discolour or wear down over time.

Timber Alternative French Doors

Bring the outside in with our range of timber alternative French or single doors, adding character to your home all year round. We have a dedicated open-out flush door sash that suites with all the window systems, the perfect entrance to the garden or patio. Paired with our traditional butt hinges, you can recreate the period look of your property or create a new feature.
